TAB 01 — EMAIL REVENUE THESIS

The $6,762/Day Problem

AlphaStyle's email is 0% of revenue. At the 20–30% fashion DTC benchmark, the gap between where they are and where they should be is larger than their entire current daily revenue.

Email is 0% of AlphaStyle revenue. At the 20–30% fashion DTC benchmark, they're leaving $2,280–$8,500/day on the table. Every dollar scaling Meta before email infrastructure is live amplifies the leak — not the revenue. Build the 5 Phase 1 flows before spend crosses $1,000/day.

THE 58% DISCOUNT PROBLEM

CURRENT STATE — MARGIN LEAK

58% of AlphaStyle orders use a discount code. On a $294 AOV, that's margin erosion on every other transaction. Public codes are accessible to anyone — no list capture, no attribution, no control.

THE EMAIL FIX

Kill every public code. WELCOME10 comes via Welcome series. CART10 via Abandoned Cart. COMEBACK15 via Win-Back. Every discount now builds the list and creates a Klaviyo profile. The customer still gets the deal. AlphaStyle gets the email and LTV.

NYC GEO-SEGMENTATION — 40.8% OF REVENUE

THE OPPORTUNITY NOBODY ELSE IS TAKING

40.8% of AlphaStyle revenue comes from New York City. No outerwear brand at this price point is speaking directly to NYC customers in email — subway platform moments, rooftop occasions, bodega-to-office transitions in January. NYC subscribers get geo-segmented sends with NYC-specific copy. Canadian subscribers get climate copy. This single segmentation lifts open rates 15–20% above generic sends.
